with indications on how to deal correctly with incidents and crisis situations

What steps should you take in the event of an incident or crisis?

1. Contact QS by phone or e-mail. Inform us about the critical incident as specifically as possible using this notification form.

We will treat all information you provide in the notification form confidentially.

How to reach QS:

Monday - Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Phone: +49 (0) 228 35068-0
Fax: +49 (0) 228 35068-10

Outside business hours, weekends and public holidays:

Phone: +49 (0) 228 35068-288

E-mail: Ereignisfall@q-s.de

2. Where appropriate, inform the following persons, regulatory authorities and companies about the incident by phone:

- a. Your local authority for feed inspection
- b. Your customers (e.g. farmers, compound feed producers, traders)
- c. Your suppliers (e.g. raw material suppliers, feed material and additive producers, traders)

3. Where appropriate, inform your employees about the incident. Instruct them to refrain from making any statements to third parties (e.g. customers, journalists) and to forward corresponding enquiries directly to the person authorised to deal with the case in question.

What happens after QS receives your incident report?

In close cooperation with you, QS supports you in your crisis management. This involves all measures to prevent damage to your company, other scheme participants and the QS scheme and to resolve the existing problems as rapidly as possible.

However, we can only provide support and prevent damage if inform us in good time and accurately.

What are "critical incidents" in the feed sector?

All incidents that pose a threat to humans, animals, the environment, assets or general confidence in feed and food can become a critical incident for individual scheme participants, the feed sector or the entire supply chain.

The following are examples of incidents that can affect you directly:

- One of your suppliers violates requirements laid down in the laws governing feed.
- A feed product you have brought into circulation does not meet the requirements for feed and food safety.
- The media report negatively or in sensational fashion about your company.
- Protest groups conduct public activities against your company.
- The competent regulatory authorities investigate your company.

When must critical incidents be reported?

In addition to your information obligations towards QS, you are also obliged to reports to the regulatory authorities in many cases.

In particular, a reporting obligation exists if a feed product that is brought into circulation possibly does not meet the requirements for feed safety. Each individual case must always be taken seriously.

Who can use this notification form?

The notification form is designed to help scheme participants in the feed sector to submit reports to QS and provide initial information to the competent regulatory authority.

Please store it in an easily accessible place together with your documents for your own crisis management.
